Newspapers. SENATOR HILL'S TRIP TO THE SOUTH.

Calls from Nearly All the Cities for a Visit,

HE MAY CHANGE HIS PROGRAMME

And Accommodate Those Who Are Desirous of Seeing Him-Other Gossip
About the Situation.

Washington, March 2.—(Special.)—The New York Herald of this morning has a long attempt to figure up the strength that the candidates will go into the democratic convention with.

It says of the 900 delegates Hill will get 285; Cleveland, 265, and "some western man," 350. It gives Cleveland fifteen states. twelve of which are republican. They are: California, Connecticut Delaware, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Hamp-shire, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

It gives Hill but ten states, all but thre of which are democratic. They are: Colorado, Florida, Idaho, Maryland, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Texas.

Where the Bosh Comes In. Then the states it gives to "some western man" shows the whole thing to be bosh. These states are: Arkansas, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Towa, Kansas, Kentucky, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina, North Dakota, Tennessee and Wyoming.

Of these states Hill is almost certain of gix. He will, at least, have the majority of the delegates from Arkansas, Georgia, Missouri, North Carolina and Tennessee, and after a ballot or two Indiana will withdraw Gray from the presidential contest in favor of Hill , with Gray as vice president. That is what Gray is playing for.

In Illinois the fight between the Palmer and Morrison people is already so heated that that state will probably be thrown to

The Real Situation.

But it is too early to count on what each state is going to do. The situation in a general way can, however, be sized up thus : Everybody knows Cleveland is out of it. Hill is the only very prominent candidate with his own state behind him. No one is able to fix upon any one western man. Hill is growing in the estimation of the people, and it looks like he will soon have the entire thing fixed, though just what his strength is cannot be estimated yet.

Senator Hill's Southern Trip. The Associated Press sends out the following tonight: The indications are that Senator Hill's trip to the south will assume far greater proportions than was origi-nally supposed by its promoters. Invitations from all parts of the south have been coming in on the senator thick and fast all day, and he is tonight confronted with considerable embarrassment in his desire to respond favorably to them all. The Young Men's Democratic Club, of the capital of Tennessee, telegraphs:

The democrats of Nashville desire to have you visit the capital of Tennessee while upon your southern tour and address them upon the issues of the day. We assure you a hearty welcome. T. J. Ryan, W. T. Smith and Rich-Ard Eastman, committee of the Young Men's Democratic Club.

John Holmes Green, of Meridian, Miss.,

also telegraphs: Can you possibly touch Meridian? Answer nmediately. Stretch every point. Shortly after this came a message from the capital of Alabama, saying:

The Hill Club, of Montgomery, invites you to stop on your route or return to Jackson and address the Hill Club of this city and vicinity. The club meets tonight to receive your answer and if favorable will immediately begin preparations for a demonstration in your honor. Answer and name a day.
BENJAMIN J. BALDWIN.

President Hill Club of Montgo Senator Hill has, up to this evening, been unable to make a reply to any of these in-vitations, despite the urgency of the tele-

"I would like to visit all these points." said he to an Associated Press reporter, "but, at present, I do not see how I can possibly do so. I have already accepted an invitation to address the Mississippi state legislature, at Jackson, on the 15th instant, and to make another speech on St. Patrick's Day, two days later, at Savannah, Ga. It takes over a day to make the trip from Jackson to Savannah, and there will not be much time for stops, or to make speeches on the road, if the present programme is adhered to. I am somewhat at a loss to reply to all these invitations, and will have to study up the most available routes before I can announce my pro-

The southern friends of Mr. Hill in congress are urging him tonight to change his programme so as to include stops at all larger cities from which invitations may not announce his determination for a day or two, they believe this kind of a programme will be ultimately adopted, and the southern trip made the occasion of a series of political ovations.

What Senator Colquitt Says. The intimation of the press in the south hostile to Governor Hill, that he has procured these invitations for the purpose of making a political tour, has excited criticism and awakened surprise that such un-worthy sentiments should be tolerated in what has been claimed the generous, hospitable south. Senator Colquitt suggests that the governor might go down south on a fishing and hunting excursion, and shake hands with the people at the depot and talk politics in the parlors. This was not considered inconsistent with "virtue" and 'purity" in the case of Cleveland, and Mr. Hill might follow his example and escape the charge of being "selfish," "corrupt" and intriguing. Mr. Springer's Illness. Mr. Springer is somewhat better today, but is still a very ill man. His features are frightfully swollen and discolored, and his condition is undoubtedly serios.

Mr. McMillin is preparing himself to open the tariff debate on Tuesday. For two weeks thereafter the house will be treated to a genuine cloudburst of oratory.

Everybody wants to speak upon this question, and in order to give them an opportunity it will be necessary to hold night

> Speaker Crisp Honored. Speaker Crisp today received a box of good cigars, bearing the brand, "The Speaker," and having on the top of the box an excellent photograph of himself. They came from Minneapolis, and are manufactured in that city. Considering the fact that Minneapolis has been selected as the place for holding the republican national convention, the brand of these cigars is significant. Appropriation Bills Passed. By the end of this week four appropriation bills will have been passed by the house. Already the military academy and Indian bills have gone to the senate. The District of Columbia bill will be passed tomorrow, and the pension bill not later than Saturday afternoon. The passage of these bills so early places this congress ahead of all of its predecessors, and demonstrates that Speaker Crisp is making it a business congress. It will also be an economical one.

Indeed, the democratic leaders have already figured up the probable appropria-tions, and they will be fully sixty-five million less than the first session of the Reed congress. There seems every prospect now of adjournment not later than the 1st of July, two months earlier than the fifty-first, and nearly three months earlier than the fiftieth, E. W. B.

INVITED TO MONTGOMERY.

The Hill Club in Montgomery Rapidly In-creasing in Numbers. Montgomery, Ala., March 2 .- (Special.)-The Hill Club held an enthusiastic meeting at the city hall last night. One hundred and thirty names have been added to the roll since the last meeting. Resolutions inviting Senator Hill to Montgomery were passed amid great enthusiasm. Hill stock is rapidly rising in this community.

The political outlook was discussed, and it was agreed that there is danger ahead unless the party placed itself upon record as determined to give relief to the people and present candidates who enjoy the confidence of all. There is a feeling of uncertainty as to how many democrats will be induced to join the third party, which is the great bugbear this year.

Birmingham. Birmingham, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—A proba-bly fatal shooting affray occurred on the East Lake nmy his afternoon. Tom Hewlett, the famous ex-deputy marshal, who led the detective force in the bloody Louisville and Nashville stike riots at St. Louis several years ago, was smoking in the negro car. H. EC. Body, a man perhaps fifty years old, objected. Hewlett asked the only woman in the car if she cared, and she answered that she did not. Body persisted in his objection, and sne did not. Body persisted in his objection, and a quarrel ensued, in which Body struck Hewlett with his fist, and then Hewlett shot him in the left side. The wounded man's condition is preca-rious. Hewlett has been tried several times for killing people, but always gets out with a case of "self defense."

CHEMISTS ON THE STAND

In the Trial of Dr. Baker, at Abingdon Va.--Dr. Taylor's Evidence. Richmond, Va., March 2.-In the Baker trial at Professors Mailet, of the university, and Jarman, of Emory and Henry college, both chemists, were put on the stand for the defense. The former said that after a long interval between the death of Mrs. Baker and her exhumation, twenty-one menths, all anatomical evidences had been vitiated by the process of decay. It was believed the prisoner's case was strengthened when court adjourned.

He Lost His Arm

Montgomery, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—
About 11:30 o'clock this morning Glaude Thornton, a young man who was going hunting, stepped into the Brunswick saloon and put his gun down in a corner at the front put his gun down in a corner at the front door, to go into the bar. As the gun struck the floor his right hand was grasping the muzzle, and the jar of the butt striking the floor caused one of the barrels to go off tearing the young man's right hand to shreds tearing the young man's right hand to shreds. The young man ran out next door to E. G. Fowler's drugstore, where his arm was bandaged to stop the flow of blood. An hour or so later the wounded member was amputated just above the wrist. Young Thornton carried accident policies to the extent of $15,000, and it is stated that his accident today will entitle him to one-half of this sum.

MAHER FALLS IN THE TWELFTH ROUND.

Details of the Affair-The Men Take a Drink Together After the Fight, Fitzsimmons Cheered.

New Orleans, March 2 .- Peter Maher, of Ireland, an aspirant for heavy-weight honors, and Robert Fitzsimmons, a New Zealander, who is the middle-weight champion of the world, met tonight before the Olympic Club of this city, for a purse of $10,000, of which the loser gets $1,000.

The Olympic had an arena which seated nearly five thousand people. By the addition of galleries, the utilization of corners and economization of space in every possible way, the capacity was increased to 6,000, and it was fully tested tonight. It was a magnificent gathering. There were sporting men from

FITZSIMMONS. MAHER.

England, Ireland, and from every corner of the United States. Chicago and New York between them, had fully five hundred delegates. New Orleans supplied its leading merchants and professional men, and, that sports were there, goes without saying.

Up to this morning the carnival features attracted a great deal of attention. Today, however, has been entirely devoted to the prize fighters. There have been crowds around the St. Charles hotel and poolrooms. Betting has been free. Every rumor has been passed about with lightning-like rapidity. Every pugilisit has had a following. Prominent men, like Slavin and Mitchell, have had a mob at their heels. The climax came when Fitzsimmons showed up this morning. He had an army behind him. His fine condition was apparent to all who saw him. He came over on an early train, accompanied by Choynski, Greggan and Robertson, and was in glorious spirits. He laughed, joked and chatted, but refrained from any mention of the ignt.

Several people attempted to tell him about Maher, but he refused to listen, saying that he would see for himself when he got into the Fitzsimmons is over six feet tall, and when Fitzsimmons is over six feet tall, and when he trained for Dempsey, getting down to 154 pounds, he was so thin that he seemed liable to break into pieces at any moment. This time, however, without any weight limit, he has trained up instead of down, and has grown as stout as a man of Fritz's build can be imagined to be. His broad shoulders and chest are masses of muscle, and his long arms and long, thin legs have actually graceful lines to them. His face, too, is round and rosy, and altogether, the New Zealander looks stronger and better than ever before. He has weighed between 168 and 172 pounds at different portions of his than ever before. He has weighed between 168 and 172 pounds at different portions of his last work days, and tonight was very near 170

After he walked and talked through the crowd in the morning his friends obtained re-newed confidence and many bets were placed on him at even money. In the Paris mutuals a majority of the tickets isseud bore the name of Fitzsimmons. Soon after his arrival Fitz went to the house of a friend in the lower district, near the Olympic club house, and there spent most of the day in rest, timing himself so as to get to the arena shortly before the fight.

At 8:35 o'clock the arena, with its sea of humanity, decorated in carnival colored drapery and flags of all nations, presented a gala sight.
Professor John Duffy was selected as referee. Captain Billy Barrett was, as usual, in charge of the arena.

Some of the Bets. A few of the big bets registered today were as follows: Charley Johnson, $4,200 on Maher; Jimmy Adams, of New York, $6,800 on Maher; D. H. Ormsby, $3,500 on Fitzsimmons; Billy Madden, $1,000 on Maher; Garmons; Elly Madden, $1,000 on Maher; Gar-field track syndicate, of Chicago, composed of John Condon and Harry Varnell and others, upwards of $12,000 on Fitzsimmons; George Clark, Chicago, $6,000 on Fitzsimmons; Steve Brodie, $1,000 on Maher. Jerry Daly is said to have wagered $2,500 on Fitzsimmons. Edward Curtis made his first appearance as master of ceremonies and was heartily cheered.

master of ceremonies and was heartly cheered.

Mitchell and Uphan. Charles Mitchell and Arthur Upham were the first to enter the ring at 8:20 o'clock.
Mitchell was accompanied by Frank Slavin,
Tom Allen and Pat Allen. Upham was accompanied by Charley Johnson and Tom Hoahan, of Chicago. Tom Allen was received with applause.

Both men were stripped to the waist. At 8:30 o'clock the men stepped to the center of the ring. Mitchell made a show of Upham in the first round, his superiority being quite apparent. Upham was very weak as he came up for the second round. Mitchell's cleverne for the second round. Mitchell's cleverness was much applauded, and he astonished some of the spectators, whose first acquaintance with the Englishman was had tonight. The third round was finished in Mitchell's favor and the Englishman was applauded.

Slavin and Vacquelin.

Slavin and Vacquelin now took their places, and there was as much contrast noticed in the men as was the case in the previous set-to. Vacquelin turned pale, as did Upham, though he presented a splendid physical appearance. Both men stripped to the waist. Slavin's superiority did not manifest itself as much over his opponent as Mitchell's did over Upham Time was called after two minutes of good punching. The men warmed up in the second round, and Slavin's hands, when offered, seldom missed Vacqueiln's face. The men hit some hard clips in this round, and Slavin's clevernoss was much admired.

Mitchell and Slavin Box.

The third round was a vigorous punching match, and was a great deal flercer than Mitchell's set-to. Slavin did not take off his gloves after this bout, but seated bimself awaiting Mitchell, who soon appeared to box with his Australian star. In this set-to Mitchell's tricks were nicely countered by Slavin's cunning. Both men appeared a little cautious, and the way they rapped each other's face and stomach seemed to almost paralyze the assemblage, and Mitchell did look a bit vexed when Referee Duffy separated them and sent them away.

The Big Event.

This closed the preliminaries, and every-body stretched before settling themselves for the card of the evening. The timer for the Maher-Fitzsimmons contest was George Clark. of Chicago; for Fitzsimmons; P. J. Donohue for Maher, and R. M. Frank for the club. Fitzsimmons reached the club at 8 o'clock and immediately stripped. He was accom-panied by Jimmy Carroll, Joe Choynski, Pro-fessor J. Robertson, and appeared in superb

The Fight.
Time was called at 9:15 o'clock and the men met in the center of the ring. Fitzsimmons opened the ball by feinting at Maher. The latter made two left leads for the face and Fitzsimmons countered on his eye. Maher made another lead with the left but missed. Both men missed and Fitzsimmons jabbed his glove into Maher's nose. Fitz knocked Maher down with his right under the jaw and landed his left on Maher's nose. When Maher got up Fitzsimmons staggered Maher with another left, and repeated it a moment later with his right. Maher bled freely from the mouth, and knocked Fitzsimmons down as time was called. met in the center of the ring. Fitzsimmons

This was a terrible round and both men were carried to their corners. Honors even. Round 2—Fitzsimmons essayed the left and Maher ducked. Both were very cautious and both missed face blows. Maher landed a heavy left on Fitzsimmons's body and repeated in the ribs with his right. Fitzsimmons landed a heavy left on Maher's ear and jabbed his left into Maher's ear and jabbed his left into Maher's bloody mouth. Maher bled profusely from the mouth, but landed with a left on Fitzsimmons's body. Both landed heavy hits and Maher landed heavy blows on Fitzsimmons's ear. The latter ran away. Both men landed right and left and Fitzsimmons staggered his man with a left in the mouth. Fitz jabbed his left repeatedly into Maher's mouth and both men went to their corners very weak; bonors still easy.

Round 3—Maher attempted a left, but Fitz-simmons landed on his nose. Maher was almost staggered as time was called] by a terrible blow.

most staggered as time was called; by a terrible blow.

Round 4—Maher still bled from the mouth and Fitz aimed for the cut spot. He landed as Maher's nose and avioded two blows aimed at his body. Maher landed a left on the nose, but got the same a moment later. Fitzsimmons landed two heavy straight lefts on the mouth, and Maher presented the sight of a beaten-up man. This round was all in Fitzsimmons's favor.

Round 5—Fitzsimmons rounded a heavy left, but received a return a moment later, Fitzsimmons staggered to his corner as the round ended.

Round 6—Maher tried with a left and Fitzsimmons ran away. The men landed heavily

Bound 7—Both men stepped to the center blow. Both exchanged lefts on the head and Maher fitung has right lightly on his oppoblow. Both exchanged letts on the head and Maher flung has right lightly on his opponent's ribs. Fitzsimmons cleverly ducked and pulled himself out of the tight corner into which the Irishman had placed him. Maher, however, received a heavy piyot blow, which however, received a heavy pivot blow, which was not barred in the agreement. It was a heavy blow on the neck and drew forth objections from Maher's corner.

Round 8—The Irishman still played for a right cross-counter, but Fitzsimmons was wary, and seldom got close enough to give Maher a chance. Fitzsimmons dashed his left repeatchance. Fitzsimmons dashed his left repeatedly into Maher's sore mouth, and nearly knocked him down with a left on the nose. Maher was weak as he went into his corner. Round 9—Fitzsimmons ducked neatly out of his corner, but received a right upper cut on the ribs which made him grunt. Maher's left leads for head fell short, and he wasted a great deal of his strength in this way. Fitzsimmons landed two lefts on the nose, was perfectly cool and avoided several heavy blows.

Round 10—Maher's left missed again and so did his right for the ribs. He got a left on the nose from Fitzsimmons's forearm, but landed heavily his right on Fitzsimmons's jaw. Maher aimed a heavy right for the body, but struck the point of Fitzsimmons's left elbow. The latter immediately sent in a heavy blow on the sore mouth and clinched. Maher was bleeding again, as time was called.

bleeding again, as time was called. Round 11—Fitzsimmons landed a right, and avoided Maher's right in return. Both men were cautious. Fitzsimmons feigned to draw Maher on, the latter trying a right on boldly. It met fitzsimmons's elbow. Fitzsimmons landed a left on the sore mouth again, but got a stinging right on the back of his head. Fitzsimmons staggered his opponent with a heavy left, and jabbed the same hand under the sore mose and mouth again as time was called. Maher Gives Up.

Round 12—Fitzsimmons's left shot into Maher's sore mouth again, the blood responding freely. The Australian was taking his time now, seemingly feeling secure. Maher's head went back twice with two heavy lefts nead went back twice with two heavy letts and the Australian slipped away to avoid punishment. The Irishman staggered in response to two heavy blows, and he played groggy to draw Fitzsinmons. The latter would have none of him, however, until he, with the same left, again hit the sore mouth. Maher staggered as he went to his corner and gave up the battle.

Fitzsimmons fought a fair fight and offered his flask to his beaten opponent. Fitzsim-mons took a hearty pull himself and then con-gratulated Maher on his game fight.

It Was a Fair Fight. The cheering for Fitzsimmons was deafen-ing in the extreme and the same merciful methods that marked his fight with Dempsy were offered again to the Irish champ were offered again to the Irish champion. The decorum was something wonderful and stamps again the Olympic's great name for fairness and managerial ability. Some people commented on Maher's courage when he gave up the fight, but it is only reasonable to think that he should have done so when the superior science and generalship of the man from Australia is called to mind.

Fitzsimpons walked around the ring retook the 10 o'clock train from Southampton to London.

In an interview with a representative of the Associated Press, Mr. Foster said that the steamer had a splendid passage from New York. He was not at all seasick and already felt much benefited by his trip. He added:

"My mission is solely to regain my health. I have no intention of seeing Mr. Goschen, or any one else, in regard to silver or immigration. I shall sail on my return to the United States next Wednesday. I may go to Paris on Friday."

Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, United States minister, and the staff of the legation were at Waterloo station in London to receive Mr. Foster when the special train arrived. The secretary, however, did not travet by special train, but came on a train that left Southampton at a later hour.

WORKS WILL SHUT DOWN

If the Miners in England Carry Out Their Threat.

Threat.

London, March 2.—The threatened extensive strike of coal miners is having a powerful effect thus far in advance of the event. The price of coal in the Sheffield district has risen three shillings per ton, and in Dublin the Increase is four shillings per ton.

At Sheffield the rolling mills' and forgers' and cutlers' associations announce that the works will be closed during the miners' strike. This decision affects thousands of cutlers, grinders and forgers. All employes of engineering works, iron foundries and wagon building works connected with Lord Durham's and Lord Londerry's collieries have given notice that these works will also be closed. Seven thousand railway employes connected with collieries will also be thrown out of work.

Great Britain's Arbiter.

London, March 2.—It is stated in insurance circles here that Mr. Ross, claim settler of the National Marine Insurance Company, has been appointed British arbiter in the dispute between great Britain and the United States regarding Behring sea.

Lumbermen in Convention. Washington, March 2.—The lumbermen's convention held here today, by unanimous vote, rention held here today, by unanimous vote, adopted the report of the committee on resolutions. It is addressed to the house of representatives, and after showing that the convention represents the interests of the lumber manufacturers and wholesale lumber dealers of the United States, states that the convention was called to consider the bill introduced by Mr. Synum, of Nebraska, placing lumber on the free list. The following resolution was adopted:

"That we respectfully and earnestly protest against the removal of the present duty on lumber."

Several brief addresses were delivered, when the subject of permanent organization was taken up. A committee to formulate a plan of organization was finally appointed with instructions to report to a subsequent meeting.

The convention met tonight and elected the following officers: President, C. W. Godyear, of New York; vice presidents, H. M. Loud, of Michigan; W. B. Dickerson, Alabama; H. G. Fitzgerald, Vermont; George W. Lisson, New York; F. Weyerhauser, Illinois; J. B. White, Missouri; A. J. Niemper, Arkanass; C. C. Mengel, Jr., Kentucky; Henry Lutcher, Tennessee; P. D. Norton, Washington; M. F. Amorous, Georgia, and B. F. Nelson, Minnesota. The secretary and treasurer will be designated tomorrow by an executive council of twelve provided for by the constitution. The convention will assemble tomorrow to hear the report of the committee appointed to appear before the house ways and means committee in the morning to oppose the free lumber bill. Anniston, Ala., March 2.—(Special.)—The first steps were taken today towards a suit for break-ing the will of Ephraim D. Allen, who died a few weeks since, leaving an estate valued at $150,000. The deceased left two children, J. Boston Allen and Mrs. Luta Draper, the bulk of the property being willed to the former. Mrs. Draper will contest the will, it is understood, on the grounds that undue influence was used. The Bride of an Hour

Mr. Clem R. Harris asked the commissioners to complete the work on East Fair street. The right of way had been secured, and the work should be pushed through. The commissioners decided to push the work through, as soon as the grading now in hand is finished.

Mr. Powers, of Oak Grove district, made a short talk before the board, asking that a bridge be built across the Crattaroochee river at Green's ferry He offered, as an inducement, to denate his ferry boat to the county. The matter was referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

Dr. E. L. Connally appeared before the board to ask that the work on Ashby street be pusred. The present condition of the street was such as to render travel along it at night extremely dangerous.

Dr. Wilson said the delay in the work was due to the failure of the engineers to make the survey. The matter, he said, was slightly mixed.

CHAIRMAN PRINGLE CORRECTS

What Seems to Be an Erroneous Impression Hon. C. R. Pringle writes from his home in Bandersville to correct an erroneous impression concerning the action of the state executive com-mittee of the Georgia Prohibition Association which met here a few days ago. Colonel Pringle desires it stated that the committee did not endorse the local option law, as the policy to be pursued.

Neither the members of the committee present, nor the letters received endorsed the local option law as the policy to be pursued in the future by the prohibitionists. On the contrary, they say, "as much good has been done under the local entire law in closing the barrooms as we can reasonably expect in closing the barrooms, and as it is the policy of the state to rid itself of the liquor curse, then the resolution following recommends something better, as follows:

Macon, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—There are two good promotions open to some officer of the Second Georgia regiment if a scheme outlined to The Constitution this morning by a prominent with the constitution the morning by a prominent The Constitution this morning by a prominent military man is carried through. The proposition is to elect two new majors for the regiment in accordance with the new United States tactics. The present major of the regiment is R. N. Holtzclaw, of Perry, who was elected in accordance with the recent law authorizing the organization of the Second regiment. This law expressly stated that should the United States tactics be at any time changed, the regiment should conform to such tactics.

any time changed, the regiment should conform to such tactics.

It is on this point that the present proposition is based. The new tactics make it necessary to have a major in command of every battalion, each battalion consisting of four companies. The Second regiment has twelve companies, and hence will have four battalions under the new tactics, with a major for each battalion.

It is proposed to order an election at once for two more majors, which offices will open appointments for two new adjutants and sergeant majors. It is desired to have the new majors elected and well informed in their duties before the troops go into camp at Griffin.

Under the new tactics, the colonel and heutenant colonel of a regiment do not recognize captains in their commands, each command being taken up and repeated by the majors of the regiments. So far no names have been mentioned in connection with these offices, but it is desired that one major at least be from Macon.

beautiful suburb lying north of the city on the Central railroad, and the company favored the idea of donating three acres of land for a baseball park, provided the new Metropolitan street railroad will build a grand stand and enclose the place.

The matter was discussed on this proposition and President Sims will go before the Metropolitan people with this object in view. He warmly favors it himself, and will, beyond a doubt, carry it through to success, giving Macon one of the best baseball parks in the country. Subscriptions for baseball stock are still coming in without solicitation from the committees, who have abandoned work until tomorrow, and it is now certain that enough money will be had without trouble.

The Robertson Mortgages Will Go Before a Jury.

THEIR VALIDITY TO BE SETTLED THERE.

The Case Before Judge Clarke Yester day-The Chinaman's Trouble. About the Courthouse.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke spent all of yesterday in hearing a case made interesting on account of the hard fight being made to win by both parties at interest.

The case was one against Mr. H. K. Robertson, the Marietta street groceryman, whose store went into the hands of a receiver about a month ago. Mr. Percy Adams was appointed receiver, and he took charge of the large stock of groceries and proceeded to dis-pose of it in the most profitable manner.

Two mortgages were held on the stock.

Mr. B. L. Robertson, of Bulloch county, held one of the mortgages, which was for $1,000, and King & Anderson, the well-known lawyers, held another mortgage for a smaller

It appears that after these mortgages are satisfied and the costs in the case are paid that the unsecured creditors of Mr. Robertson will find but a small amount of assets out of which to make what is due them.

They set about to knock the mortgages out. They prepared a bill attacking the mortgage held by Mr. B. L. Robertson, on the ground that it was not a valid debt, and Mr. Robertson was a relative of the giver of the mort-This bill was tendered to Judge Clarke yes.

terday morning, and was argued until late yes terday morning, and was argued until take yesterday afternoon.

The bill was filed by J. W. Phillips & Co., the Atlanta Paper Company, and other unsecured creditors. They were represented by Messrs. Mayson & Hill. Mr. Robertson was

The argument was thorough and complete, and a hard fight was made by both sides.

Judge Clarke stated after the argument was finished that he would not decide upon the validity of the mortgages, but leave that matter to a jury. In the mountime he continued Mr. Percy Adams as receiver and directed that he should dispose of the stock, the proceeds to be held subject to the final determi-

The Harkey Cases. The cases against W. C. Harkey, the saloonist, charging him with solling whisky to a minor, were again called in the Atlanta criminal court yes erday morning. Mr. Frank O'Bryan, Mr. Harkey's counsel, said that he objected to the case being tried before the same jury that had heard all the evidence in the case during the trial the day before. He asked for a postponement until Monday, when a new jury would be sworn.

Judge Westmorelaud granted this continuance.

Speaking of this case yesterday, Solicitor Thomas said: "What I said before the jury in this case might be misconstrued by some. I did not mean in saying that I would vigorously prosecute all such cases that I would have anything to do with originating them. But when such cases come into my court I intend to prosecute them vigorously, and see that the law is enforced.

the superior court and will probably occupy several days.

The case as it now comes up will in no wise affect the contempt case. It is to decide upon the validity of the numerous mortgages held on the stock, and to direct the distribution of the inoney now in the hands of Receiver Kingsbery among the many creditors of the firm.

Receiver Kingsbery now has in hand about one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars, and creditors representing about one million dollars' worth of claims want their part of it.

The mortgagees, of course, claim preference, and the fight will be a general one. A largo number of attorneys are interested in the case and the trial may occupy the entire week.

A Long Session.

Judge Marshall J. Clarke will convene the civil branch of the superior court next Monday for the longest session known to any court. The session will continue without any intermission, save a week's vacation in May, until July 2d. A long civil docket is before Judge Clarke.

GENTLEMEN: It is about time for you to think some of Spring Clothing, for it won't be long until you have to discard that heavy Winter Suit and Overcoat for something lighter and more seasonable. It's a little early, but there is a great advantage in making your selections while our stock is complete and not picked over. Tans and grays in soft goods will be the season's two colors for suitings. Small, broken checks, homespuns in very swell patterns, and neat mixtures in both soft and hard goods are now the fad. Our stock abounds in a great variety of these and at prices that will please you. In plain worsteds we show an immense assortment, and if it is a plain suit you want, come to us. We are headquarters. You will find our prices very moderate and within your reach. Whether you are ready to place an order or not, we would be pleased to have you call and look through for future reference. Come

Tuesday, March 15th, at 4 o'clock, p. m., threestory brick building, on lot 80x136, corner Marietta and Earl streets, the John Davis property.

This is a splendid piece of central business property. The Atlanta saw works occupy tility feet, being the building formally used by Mr. Davis, for which they pay $600 under a lease which runs until September, 1894.

The building on the other fifty feet is a strong,
three-story new brick building put up by Mr.
Davis for his own use, but in consequence of the falling health of Mrs. Davis, he finds it necessary to return to Baltimore and has concluded to self the property. For factory purposes no such a building can be found; built to hold beavy machinery. Oposite is the new Kiser building, occupied by Conklin's factory. The location is good. Marietta street is destined to be a main businces street, and the central location gives promise for a rapid increase in value, besides good interest on the investment. It is much better to buy a new well-built building on property than to buy vacant ground, and no man has bought lots on Marietta street that has not made money.
Moneyed men need no advice from has about where to put their cash. We only ask you to look at the property and see for yourselves.

Terms one-third cash, balance to suit purchaser by paying 7 per cent interest semi-annually. Titles perfect. At Auction

Macon St. Railroad Property.

OY VIRTUE OF THE AUTHORITY VESTED IN

DY VIRTUE OF THE AUTHORITY VESTED IN

D me by a decree of the superior court of Bibb county, Ga., rendered February 20, 1892, in the case of the Thomson-Houston Electric Company et al.,
plaintiffs, vs. the Macon City and Suburban Street
Railroad Company' and the Central City Street
Railroad Company, defendants, I will, as the commissioner of the court, expose for sale at public outery, to the highest bidder, before the courthouse door in the city of Macon, Ga., on the 3ist day of March, 1892, between the hours of 10 o'clock in the forenoon and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, subject to confirmation by the court, all the property and franchises of the Macon City and Suburban Street Railroad Company, situated in the city of Macon, Ga., and the suburbs thereof; the said property, which is more fully set out in detail in said decree, is as follows:

Eight and eighty-six one bundredth miles of track, of which 3½ miles are equipped for operation by electric cars, the remainder for operation by horse cars, the same being situated as follows:

A line from the corner of Fourth and Mulberry

Not "Good Democrats." The Macon Telegraph suggests that The Constitution is mistaken in saying that George William Curtis was elected treasurer of the bolters' committee which met at 10 Wall street last Saturday, for the purpose of organizing a crusade against the democratic party. We know no more about the matter than The Telegraph does. Our information was based on telegrams sent the western papers Sunday, and published all over the country. We cannot vouch for their accuracy. It is probable that two meetings have been confused by our Macon contemporary, since it places the William E. Curtis affair at 52 William street, whereas the bolters' committee, according to the dispatches, was held at 10 Wall street.

Our opinion is that our Macon contemporary will find George William Curtis not very far away from the left center, when an attack on the democratic party is going on. That is his record, and he is a tolerably consistent mugwump.

The Telegraph says that Mr. William E. Curtis is not a mugwump, but a good democrat. There is a world of consolation in this for Colonel Thomas Watson and those who are getting up a third party in Georgia. If Mr. William E. Curtis and the rest of the Cleveland democrats in New York can organize a bolters' convention for the purpose of attacking and breaking down the party organ-Ization, and still remain good democrats, surely it will be inconsistent for their Georgia sympathizers to harshly criticise those democrats who are trying to get up a third party. If circumstances had not already eliminated Mr. Cleveland, this effort of his friends to make him the leader of an unreasonable bolt would do the buisness. Meanwhile if The Telegraph really thinks that those who are making an effort to break down the party organization in New York are "good democrats" it ought not hesitate to pat Watson on the back and cry "Go it, Tommy!" For our part we would as lief see the party smashed by Watson as by the bolting friends of Mr. Cleveland.

The Unknown.

Those democrats who are inclined to measure David B. Hill by the republican abuse which his attitude as a democratic partisan has invited should pause and take their bearings. It is impossible to conceive of a higher tribute to Mr. Hill's services to his party than his republican enemies have paid him. On the other hand it is impossible to conceive of a sorrier spectacle than the endorsement of this abuse by men who profess to be democrats.

It is natural that there should be some opposition to Hill. A great many people fail to grasp the situation; the significance of current events is altogether lost on them; they are unable to take a broad and comprehensive view of affairs. It seems to us that such opposition should be as modest as it is narrow. Those who think that there is a contest going on between the followers of Mr. Hill and the friends of Mr. Cleveland should open their eyes to the facts. There is no such contest going on; there never has been such a contest.

The elements which form party opinion have merely been feeling around for the most available man-striving to fix upon a candidate who has the strength and ability to lead the party to victory. The discussion, even where it has degenerated into a controversy, has been and is a most wholesome one, and the upshot of It will be to prevent the national convention from making any serious mistake so far as the nomination of a candidate

Those who are opposing Mr. Hill because they prefer Mr. Cleveland are hav-ing their labor for their pains. There is no contest between these two democrats for the nomination. Mr. Cleveland is out of it. His weakness in his own state. apart from all other considerations, has eliminated him. His most influential friends perceive this fact and acknowledge it. Mr. Watterson, who knows a hawk from a handsaw in political matters, has already turned his attention to other candidates. He has been a Cleveland man through thick and thin, but he is aware of the fact that events have disposed of the ex-president so far as his chances for the democratic nomination are concerned. The situation now is Hill against the Unknown. As things go, the Unknown will have to develop himself very rapidly, and he will have to come with a record that will fit the humor and disposition of the agricultural section of the democratic party, and with something more than a bare prospect of carrying New York. Mr. Watterson says the Unknown is in the west, and he shows us the name of Mr. Carlisle written across the veil in large letters. We are not told what advantage Mr. Carlisle has over Mr. Hill in the matter of carrying New York state, nor how his nomination would dispose of the demand which the southern farmers are making for the free coinage of silver. Yet these are both interesting features of the discussion. It is perfectly well known in Georgia and in the south that the nomination of an anti-siver man will give a dangerous impulse to the third party movement, Mr. Hill has this advantage over the Unknown-he is in favor of free coinage and has demonstrated his ability to carry New York. He has built up the party in that state until it is invincible, and it follows him with a devotion and a unanimity that have never been won by any other democrat.

The Unknown may be as powerful as Mr. Hill, but this fact will have to be conclusively shown before the party can be induced to take him up. This is not the year for doubtful experiments.

A Biographical Epidemie. Now, that the Hill and Toombs biographies are before the people of Georgia, the two volumes having been published within a few months of each other, the public will be interested in the timely announcement of a New York publisher concerning a book of reminiscences, now in press, by the Hon. Henry W. Hilliard.

Another timely biography of a great southerner, whose career was more or less interwoven with the lives of Hill, Toombs and Hilliard, has just been published at Birmingham. Its title is "The Life and Times of Yancey, a History of the Political Parties in the United States from 1834 to 1864; Especially as to the Origin of the Confederate States.'

The work has not yet made its appearance on our review table, but we learn from The Birmingham Age-Herald that it is a volume of 752 pages, well bound and well printed, .handsomely illustrated, and written by John Witherspoon DuBose, "a ripe scholar, painstaking in the gathering of facts, elegant and forcible in his style. The book is from one who knew Yancey well and loved him truly.

It is gratifying to see these indications of a biographical epidemic in the south. In the past our people have been so busy making history that they have neglected what seemed to them the minor matters of recording it. The northern people have been careful in chronicling everything, and the future historian, searching among libraries for material, will be surprised to find so many lives of northern great men and so few of famous southerners.

It is time to correct our negligence in this regard. The south has produced her Grants in almost every line of human endeavor, and it is inexcusable that their bright intellects, eloquent words and enoch-making deeds should be left to the uncertain tongue of tradition. We have believed for some time that the literary talent of the south, so active since the war in various fields, should take care of our history and hand down to posterity the illustrious men who have borne so noble a part in the building of a nation, and in making the arms and arts of our civilization potential at home and respected abroad The biography of Yancev will be welcomed north and south. The great Alabamian was a giant among giants in the most heroic period of our history. It was believed by many that it was his ambition to become president of the southern confederacy. Be that as it may, his influence had much to do with the formation of that short-lived government, and the fact that he was selected for a very delicate and important mission abroad shows the high opinion the heads of the confederate government entertained of his diplomatic ability. Taking it for granted that the biographer has done justice to his subject, it is safe to say that "The Life and Times of Yancey" will be widely read by intelligent Americans, and especially by the younger generation.

The democratic state executive committee neld its meeting yesterday and set the date of the state convention for May 18th. The committee is mainly composed of Hill men.

How far west will the democratic party have to go for a candidate this year? Some paper ought to offer a prize for the first ten correct answers to this conundrum.

One would think the Massachusetts demorats would be for Mr. Cleveland; but some of them are for Russell and some for Hill.

The New England opposition to David B. Hill appears to be confined to the republicans and the mugwumps.

For an old man Bismarck has been having good deal of fun during the past few weeks. Mr. John C. Latham, of New York, who mistook an address of a committee from the Atlanta Cleveland Club for the official utterance of the state executive committee, wired his congratulations to the committee yesterday.

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

The Douglasville New South, referring to the meeting of Flat Rock Alliance last Saturday, says:
"Flat Rock Alliance is one of the strongest, if not the strongest, in Douglas county. Its membership is in the neighborhood of one hundred and fifty, and nearly the entire membership was present. There were several speeches made and then a test vote was called. And that vote just knocked all the props from under what few follows. then a test vote was called. And that vote just knocked all the props from under what few followers of Emissary Post were at that meeting. Out of the number present only five could be found willing to leave the old and tried friend of the people—the democratic party—and some of them are weak, very weak. The good work for democracy being done by The New South and some of the good old democratis in Douglas county is surely taking effect, and the third partyiese are growing beautifully less. By the time the democratic rally, on the second Wednesday in April, there will not be a corporal's guard left of the fast dying party."

THE RACE IN THE SECOND.

Dawson, Ga., March 1.—Editor Constitution—In in interview, published in last Sunday's issue of your paper, Judge Guerry says that he has good reason to believe that had his name been pre reason to believe that had his name been presented to the ailliance convention, held in Cuthbert on the 25th of February, he would have received its endorsement as their choice to represent them in the fifty third congress. As I was a friend and supporter of his from his own town, and would have been expected to put him in nomination, by implication he accurses me of infidelity to him. Now, I don't think that the public has any interest in a personal guarrel between Judge Guerry and myself. I am willing to let every member of that convention say what part I took in it with reference to his candidacy, and the possibility of his being endorsed by them, which I think will prove entirely satisfactory to the people of the second congressional district, as well as to the judge himself. Thomasville, Ga. February 29.—Editor Constitution: There seems to be, from reported interviews of distinguished gentleman by your correspondent, a misapprohension on their part, as to my status before the recent alliance convention at Guthbert, which I desure to correct through your columns, the original source of information.

I was not a candidate before the convention as intimated. The submission of my name by the gentlemen who did it, was even without my knowledge. The note received was an agreeable surprise to me, and I desire through this incellum to return sincere thanks to my alliance friends for this manifestation of their confidence and esteem, and to assure them of my good will. HIS FOOT CAUGHT,

And a Negro Was Killed by an Engine that Soon Crushed His Life Out.

Tom Allen, a colored employe of the Richmond and Danville, met a borrible death last evening.
His foot was caught in a frog, he was thrown upon the track and every rib in his body badly broken by an engine.

The accident happened shortly after dark.
Allen ran forward near Bell junction to turn the switch for a f.eight train on the Richmond and Danville.

As he did the work he started to step to one side. His foot was tightly wedged in the frog, however, and he tugged to extreate himself, but in value.

Another effort and he was thrown upon the track. The train was at that moment moving along slowly, but it could not be stopped in time.

The pilot caught Allen and before the engine could be brought to a standstill he was under it. could be brought to a standstill he was under it. Not a cut did the negro receive, but every rib was broken and he was terribly crushed.

He was quickly taken out and was about to be removed, but died on the way. He was carried to Cargie's undertaking est. blishment on 1y street. An inquest will be held there by Coroner Davis this morning.

Allen was twenty-four years of age and unmarried and had lived in Atlanta for some time. He was employed on the Richmond and Danville as switchman.

That Was Found Last Night Where It Certainly Had No Business. A little box of dynamite,

That tells the story of a half-hour of excitement on Forsyth street last evening.

About dark a little girl, while at play at the home of Mr. E. A. Shulhafer, at 199 Forsyth street, came across a tin box in the yard almost under the house.

She thought it held tiny littlespebbles, good to play with, and brought the contents indoors.

The box, twice as big as a pill box was quickly seen to contain dynamite, and it created a great deal of conjecture as to how it came there.

It was hardly large enough to cause much damage, but no one cared to fool with it or be around when it exploded.

In consequence the box, with its contents, was brought to police headquarters and the matter reported. How it got to the yard next to the house, and why it was put there, is unknown.

The dangerous stuff was scattered to the winds, and with that ended all chance of any harm resulting in any way from it.

But it certainly caused a scare, and that may have been the purpose to which it was applied.

NEWS OF SOCIETY.

Last evening there was a quiet marriage at the e of the bride's mother at 54 street. Mr. T. A. Murray was married to Miss Estelle Fowler. The Rev. Dr. Hawthorne per-formed the ceremony which united the lives of these two popular young people. No cards. Mr. Murray is a son of Professor Murray, of this city, and is a well-known young business man, connected with the firm of the Atlanta Hardware and Carriage Company. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. H. L. Burson, of this city, and sister of Mr. A. L. Fowler. She is one of the most beautiful young ladies in Atlanta and one of the loveliest. Hearty are the congratulations extended the young people by their many friends. A very happy marriage occurred Tuesday at 1:30 o'clock at the residence of Major John D. Cunningham in Decatur. The contracting parties were Miss Susie W. Cunningham and Mr. W. A. Shelby. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. H. Gaines, pastor of the Decatur Presbyterian. church, in the presence of a large number of rela-tives and friends from Decater, Atlanta, Savan-nah, Augusta and North Carolina.

The bride is the daughter of Major and Mrs. John Cunningham, of Decatur, and is one of De-catur's loveliest and most popular young ladies. The groom is a popular young business man of Atlanta, and is highly respected by all who know him. Cassels, of Kirkwood, and is a nephew of Co'knel George W. Scott, of Decatur. He is an active young business man, and has, for reveral years, been superintendent of Scote's chemical works, at Kirkwood, which position he has filled with great credit. The happy young couple will, for the present, board with the Misses Emery, at Kirkwood, where they are at home to their friends.

The marriage of Miss Nelson and Mr. Charles Beek is announced. The wedding will occur on the 7th of April. This young couple is widely known, and their engagement has been an open known, and their engagement has been an open secret for some time among their hosts of friends. The Social Union will hold a reception this evening at Mrs. A. C. Bruce's residence, No. 66 Houston street, from 8 to 10 o'clock p. m. The members and friends of the union are cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Colonel I. W. Avery and Mrs. William Wilkins entertained last night at an old-fashioned tea Mrs. W. D. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cobb Jackson, Mrs. Loulie M. Gordon and Mr. John W. Avery. The flowers were hyacinths, and a special feature was an old-time, home-brewed plum pudding.

Dr. and Mrs. G. G. Roy were at home to the members of the faculty and graduating class of the Southern Medical college last evening. The leautiful home was handsomely and tastefully decorated, and those who entered were most royally entertained. At the home of the bride, on Whitehall street, Mr. J. D. Nipper was united in marriage to Miss Nettie L. Dozier, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Rev. Walker Lewis officiating. Only the immediate families of the contracting parties were present. No cards.

FACTIONS FIGHT.

Fulton County's Republicans Helda Stormy Convention Yesterday.

The republicans of Fulton county met in convention at 12 o'clock yesterday.

The chief object of the convention was to select delegates to the district convention, that meets in this city Saturday next at 11 clock, and to the republican state convention that meets April 1st. It could not have been called a harmonious assembly, by any means. In fact discord knocked harmony entirely out of the programme in the first round. The republicans of this district have developed two seperate and distinct factions within the past few days, and they crossed swords in very vigorous style in yesterday's convention.

One is the officeholders' faction that now holds the scepter of power, and proposes to keep it at any cost.

The other includes those patriots who were so forcibly impressed with the president's recent message, advising against office holders being sent to the convention, that they feel it their imperative duty to entirely dethrone the old crowd, and send new men, and business men, to Minneapolis. This faction entered the arena in regular gladiatorial style yesterday and made things exceedingly warm for the opposing side.

It Was a Draw The friends of Ed Angier and Wimbish, who represented the faction in power, led out, but soon found out that they were not going to have easy sailing. Tre other side, who were supporting Schell and H. W. Walker—with Buck at their back—had all their strength collected and gave their opponents a warm reception.
For more than three hours the fight was continued, and at the final conclusion it was considered a draw, from the fact that the delegates were about equally divided between tre two factions. The District Delegation Afte much schemeing filibustering and warm orating, the following delegation was agreed upon to represent Fulton county in the district convention. E. A. Angier, C. C. Wimbish, M. P. Gaines, H. W. Walker, L. J. Price and R. M. Southerland. This was a compromise delegation and neither faction can claim a point by its selection, as it is equally depoint by its selection vided between them.

The State Delegates. The state delegation was agreed up in as follows: A. E. Buck, R. T. Dow, Smith W. Easly, A. Graves and J. N. Blackshear.
Of this delegation, Smith Easly is the recognized leader of the Angier-Wimbish faction, and Colonel Buck is a strong supporter of the other.

The Struction at Present.

The Situation at Present. Fulton county's action yesterday threw little light on the situation in general. Wimbish is certain of election as one of the delegates to the national convention from this district, but who the other one will be is uncertain, the chances however being in favor of Colonel Angier. The fight on Angier by the crowd headed by Buck is in reality helping Angier. The rank and file of the next way are not recovered.

Angier by the crowd headed by Buck is in reality helping Angier. The rank and file of the party can see no reason why Angier should be kept at home because he's an office holder, while Office Holder Buck is allowed to run things.

The custom house committee meeting, an account of which was given in vesterday's paper, created a great deal of dissention and dissatisfaction. The three white candidates in the race, who are Messrs. Alex Madison, E. A. Angier and H. W. Walker, met and agreed to each select a man to represent him in a committee of three who should agree upon an acceptable white delegate from this district. Colonel Buck was to represent Walker; General Lewis, Madison, and Smith Easly, Angier. Buck, in order to keep himself solid in any event, refused to act, and substituted H. A. Rucker. Rucker was not acceptable to Angier's friends, and there was a strong kick, that resulted in engendering lots of ill feeling.

Rucker says he acted only because Colonel Buck could not spare the time to attend the meeting, and that his fight against Angier is not on personal grounds at all, but purely in deference to the president's wishes to keepoffice holders out of the convention.

The thing is growing warm. There will be some interesting developments before the convention Friday.

Bishop Nelson took as his text St. Matthew vi, 16; "When ye fast be not as hypocrites."

* He said that Episcopalians were generally considered to hold the Lenten season as a season of fasting and prayer. "I believe Lent is for a more definite purpose. The meaning of Lent is to have in view the object of the eradication of all that is evil in our nature and the extension of all our goodness. We should not go to church during Lent just because we thought we ought to go, but should go for help and strength to observe this season, which has been observed by the church for hundreds of years, and you are trying to follow in the footsteps of your Master. It is the only way to observe this season properly. Don't be guilty at the time of your most solemn service of hypocrisy. The basest, lowest, meanest person & the man who pretends to be a Christian and in his heart is a servant of the devil. Let Lent a reality to you, my friends, and don't be a hypocrite."

The thirty-fourth annual commencement of the Atlanta Medical college occurred last were occupied by ladies, who bestowed roses in abundance upon the young physicians.

The exercises began at 8 o'clock, and were opened with prayer by Rev. James W. Pogue. Dr. W. S. Kendrick, proctor of the Atlanta Medical college, was introduced by Hon. N. J. Hammond, and made his report.

He reported that during the past summer an unber of changes had been made in the college building. An amphitheater had been built which would be a credit to any institution in the country. The result of the first built which would be a credit to any institu-tion in the country. The result of the first session of the Atlanta College of Pharmacy, which was but one year old, was most gratify-ing. Success had attended all the efforts of the teachers. Despite the fact that the fees were increased at the beginning of the session 25 per cent, and honorable competition has been knocking at its very door, the Atlanta Medical college still holds its place as the leader of the surgical colleges of the south. Her books show the largest class in all her history. The total number of students was 181. From Georgia there were 132; Ala-bama, 11; South Carolina, 8; North Carolina, 6; Texas, 4; Florids, 3; Louisiana, 2; New York, 2; Tennessee, 1; Mississippi, 1; Ohio, 1. Sixty-four of these have passed a satisfactory examination in the medical department. One student applied for the degree of "graduate student applied for the degree of "graduate Howard Van Epps, the orator of the evening, was introduced.

The speech of Judge Van Epps was eloquent and able. He spoke of the great influence a physician exercised. Above all things they should lead clean lives. Their presence should be a sunburst in the sickroom, and a balm to aching hearts beside the deathbed of loved ones. Kind acts often do more to relieve the patient than doses of physic. The mind can often be treated to better effect than the body.

The speech was applauded at the close of almost every sentence.

The valedictorian was Dr. J. A. S. Chambers. His parting address was full of prettily, rounded sentences, and was heartily cheered.

The prizes were delivered by Hon. E. W. Martin. He made an eloquent talk to each of the young gentlemen winning the prizes before presenting them with the medals they had won.

The presenting of the prizes closed the exercises, with the exception of the presentation of flowers to the students, which was done after ience was dismissed. The commencement was a most brilliant one, and a finer class of young doctors was never presented with diplomes

FROM OUR NOTEBOOKS. A Successful Raid.—Deputy United States Collector J. E. Hethington and Deputy Marshals Campbell and McDonald have just returned from a successful revenue raid in Rockdale county. They captured a splendidly equipped copper still, with all necessary distillery attachments, supposed to be the property of Owens and Corley. No arrests have yet been made. The distilling machinery was brought to Atlanta yesterd 2.

He Found a Watch.—George Miller, a small white boy, walked into police headquarters yesterday and calling for the officer in enarge, handed over a lady's gold watch. The boy informed the officer that he had found the watch on Mitchell street near Whitehall. The owner of the watch can have it by calling on Chief Connolly.

Mrs. Reynolds Burled.—Mrs. E. P. Reynolds, who died at her home, 14 Strong street, was buried yesterday afternoon at Westview cemetery. The funeral services were held at the house. Mrs. Reynolds was forty-nine years old, and leaves five children.

Superintendent Campbell.—Assistant Super-intendent William R. Campbell, of the railway mail service of Washington, is in the city. He is making a tour of inspection over this section of the south. His reports are favorable to the management of the railway mail service of the southern districts. Lost a Finger.—Frank C. Weston, a train hand on the Richmond and Dauville road, had his left hand horribly crushed yesterday while coupling cars at the Belt junction. Weston was brought to the city on the passenger train about noon and taken to Dr. Westuoreland's office, where the first finger of the crippled hand was amputated at the third joint.

He Will Recover.—Charles Tucker, the young man who was accidentally shot by his brother, at Oakland, day before yesterday, is now expected to recover. Dr. J. G. LeGrand, of Anniston, Ala, a friend of the Tucker family, examined his wounds and located the ball. The indications are that he will recover.

A Broken Leg.—Chastain Leggins, a small white boy who has been working for D. P. Trout, a grocer on Decatur street, near the Air-Line crossing, was thrown from a wagon yesterday afternoon on the Boulevard. The boy's left leg was broken just below the knee, and an ugly scalp wound was inflicted.—He was removed to his home where Dr. Webb rendered the necessary aid.

An Interesting Rumor.—A rumor which has been floating around connects Hon. T. M. Norwood's name with the third party nomination for governor. An old friend of Mr. Norwood's saidlast night, that he does not believe there is any foundation for the report.

Randall's Minstrels.—Randall's minstrels, Atlanta's excellent aggregation of funny men and song and dance artists, played at the Edgewood Avenue theater last night. They gave a very good performance and had a fair audience. They will give a matinee this afternoon.

To Be Decided by a Committee.—The inscription on the memorial plate to Jefferson Davis and confederate generals, which includes the photos of forty of the most distinguished generals from the different states, and a complete roster of all officers from brigadier general up, being now about completed, two spaces are reserved at the base, in which it is intended to place a suitable inscription on each—on one a tribute to served at the base, in which it is intended to place a suitable inscription on each—on one a tribute to the private solder, on the other a tribute to the private solder, on the other a tribute to the women of the south who were so noble and self-sacrificing. There is room for about sixteen to eighteen words on each. It is desired that any reader, ady or gentleman, who has some beautiful couplet at command, or will originate one, short, terse, expressive, that will do honor to the subjects—the private soldier and the ladies of the confederacy—will each mail it promptly to Judge W. L. Calboun, chairman, and the committee will select the most appropriate. It is hoped that among the many admirers of the provess of our soldiery and the devotion of our women, quite a number or responses will be received. Answers are wanted by Friday, March 4th.

May the 18th Is the Day Decided Upon for the Delegates.

AND AUGUST 10TH FOR STATE OFFICERS.

The Work of the Democratic Executive Committee Yesterday-All the Prepara-tions Made for the Conventions.

Atlanta, Ga., March 2.-To the Democrati of Georgia: In pursuance of the instructions this day given me by the state democratic executive committee, two state democratic conventions are hereby called to convene in the city of Atlanta, one at 12 o'clock Wednesday, May 18th, and the other at 12 o'clock Wednesday, August 10th.

Each county is entitled to twice as many votes in each of the state conventions as it has members in the lower house of the general

The first convention is called to select delegates to the national democratic convention, which convenes in Chicago on June 21st; the second convention is to nominate democratic candidates for governor, statehouse officers and presidential electors, and to elect a new executive committee for the state.

The methed of selecting delegates from the various counties is left in the control of the county executive committees; but the state committee suggests that the selection of delegates, and all nominations by the party, be by primary elections in the respective counties. Each county is urged to perfect its local party organization, that the party may be thoroughly organized throughout the state, and prepared to meet and overcome all opposition.

W. Y. ATKINSON,

Chairm'n State Dem. Ex. Com. H. H. CABANISS, Sec'y.

Chairman Atkinson Talks.

The meeting was to have been called to order at 10 o'clock, but owing to the late arrival of many of the delegates, it was after 11 o'clock when Chairman W. Y. Atkinson took the president's chair and wrapped on the varnished desk with his big pocket knife for Before any business at all was un Chairman

Atkinson made a few pointed remarks bearing upon the work before the committee and the democracy of the whole state of Georgia. He said the meeting of the committee had been called somewhat earlier than usual this year for reasons quite obvious to every member. He stated that for the first time in years the democratic party was confronted by an op-ponent in the political arena here in Georgia. There are those from among our own ranks who differ with us, and who have left the democratic ranks.

In opposing this foe, Mr. Atkinson said the

In opposing this foe, Mr. Atkinson said the democrats must not use abuse. They need only be loyal to democracy, be just and righteous, fair and honest in their battle for the principles of that party which had saved Georgia in more trying days than these and which has never yet lost its power to save the people of the south if fully and freely trusted, The third party, he said, had gained whatever strength it may have by the splits and differences that have been aroused by men in the democratic party who have sought honor too ambitiously from their party. "But," said he, "we must not be harsh and drive them from the party; rather be fair and invite them to come back.

"But, we must go about the conflict bravely and with forethought," said Mr. Atkinson.

We must have-"1. Thorough organization.
"2. Our democratic press must work with reason, candor and fearlessness.
"3. Individuals must come to the front and

"3. Individuals must come to the front and battle for party principles."

Mr. Atkinson referred to the measures which must be considered in the democratic camps before entering the next campaign to champion the people's rights. He said war must be waged on the protective tariff as vigorously as in the past, but no single plank like this should be trusted. Financial reform and a proper solution of the currency expansion must needs go hand in hand with tariff reform, for they were popular demands, and the democratic party was the medium through which popular demands must be made with hope for success.

Mr. Atkinson wound up his remarks by saying that whatever of bickering might be heard in Georgia now, when the time comes the old state will rock no more in doubt, but will sail smoothly in democratic seas, floating the col-smoothly in democratic seas, floating the col-ors of a true and tried democracy, whoever the nominee of the party may be.

Organizing the Meeting.

After Mr. Atkinson had finished his talk, After Mr. Atkinson had finished his talk, the committee began to organize for business. A quorum was found to be present, consisting of the following: W. A. Little, F. C. Tate, Bolling Whitfield, E. D. Graham, R. D. Brown, Thomas Whitaker, Frank P. Rice, C. M. Candler, Washington Dessau, L. D. Shannon, M. A. B. Tatum, James M. Smith, Lewis Davis, C. H. Cohen, E. W. Watkins, J. C. Hand, Clark Howell.

Mr. C. R. Warren, of Hawkinsville, was present in place of R. D. Brown, Mr. H. H. Cabaniss held the proxy of Mr. Harrison, Colonel James M. Smith was allowed to cast the vote of Colonel Mattox, who was absent, and Mr. C. H. Cohen held proxy for Mr. James Whitehead, also absent.

Mr. H. H. Cabaniss, of Atlanta, was made secretary of the meeting.

secretary of the meeting.

An Open-Door Session. By motion, it was decided not to have a secret session, as has been the custom.

Mr. E. D. Graham moved that two conventions be called—one for electing delegates to the national democratic convention and the other to nominate candidates for the state election.

The motion was carried unanimously.

The motion was carried unanimously.

The Cleveland Club Knocks.

At this period of the proceedings, Hon. W.

A. Little arose and said that the Gleveland Club desired the admission into the hall of their president, Captain W. D. Ellis, and moved that he be heard by the committee.

The motion was carried and Captian Ellis was introduced to the committee. He said he had come in a spirit of fairness to ask in behalf of the Cleveland Club that the date of the convention for electing national convention delegates be put no earlier than customary, and as late as consistent with the views of the committee.

He said he did not ask this in a spirit of disfrust, for he knew the committee would do nothing that was not in accordance with custom and right. He further expressed a hope that the committee would allow primatics to the text of the committee would allow primatics to the committee would allow primatics to hope that the committee would allow prima-ties to be the mode of selecting these dele-ries to be the mode of selecting these delerates.

"What do you mean when you say don't may the convention too early?" asked Chairnan Atkinson.

"About the middle of May will do—anyning that is customary," was the reply.

Mr. F. C. Tate: "Will Wednesday, 18th of Tay, suit?"

Captain Ellis: "Yes."

Mr. Clark Howell: "I beg to express my simply rise to say that I don't think this mmittee should run the date of the convenon to an unusually early day. I think the iddle of May is early enough, and I am sure

It will be satisfactory to the other side as well as to the Cleveland Club."

Fixing the Date. Then came a discussion as to the date for the Then came a discussion as to the date for the convention.

Some wanted it early, some late.

Mr. Whitaker moved to make it May 25th.

Mr. Tate substituted May 18th.

Mr. Dessau favored the 25th. He said the very reason that there were Hill and Cleveland factions already astir, and that the Cleveland Club of Fulton county had asked that it should be put late showed that the committee had to be cautious lest criticism should be made of their action.

"Since May 25th was named before the Cleveland Club was heard from," said he, "I move to adopt that date."

Mr. Graham said: "Why not compromise on the first Wednesday in June?"

The votes were taken and it was decided to have the convention called on the 18th of next May.

May.

A Very Funny Telegram.

A telegram was handed Chairman Atkinson just at this time which caused a broad and sweeping smile to play over every face when read aloud, every one seeing that it was out of place in that hall. The telegram read as follows:

New York, March 2.—To the Democratic State.

place in that hall. The telegram read as follows:

New York, March 2.—To the Democratic State Committee, Atlanta: As a private citizen and a democrat, holding no office and seeking no political favors, permit me to congratulate you on your timely and patriotic address to the people of Georgia in which you commend the nomination of the greatest living democrat, Grover Cleveland.

It is an absolute waste of time to think of nominating any one else. He will sweep New York like a cyclone. His name alone is a tower of strength, because his record has been honest and upright.

Carry Georgia for him by all means. The masses will take care of him in New York.

If the democratic party, whose principles have lasted so long, should go down in defeat, let us have at the helm our greatest captain, Grover Cleveland.

JOHN C. LATHAM.

When the telegram was read, Mr. Clark
Howell jokingly moved to refer it to Secretary Cabaniss with power to act.

Amid much laughter the secretary arose to explain the mistake already so clearly seen, that the telegram was intended for the president of the Cleveland Club of Fulton county.

The joke was greatly enjoyed by every member. The State Convention.

Mr. C. R. Warren moved to fix the date of the convention to name candidates for state officers for July 20th.
Mr. Tatum, of Dade, substituted August

10th.

Colonel James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe, strongly favored the 10th of August, saying the committee would expose itself to criticism in seeming to take enap judgment on any candidate. He said the third party people would undoubtedly put out a candidate, and they would be sensitive to any snap-shot business that might be played. He said there was all to give and pathing to loss in putting was all to give and nothing to lose in putting the date as late as the 10th of August. The vote was taken, and August 10th was the decision of the committee.

As to the Representation. It was on motion agreed to allow each county to have two votes in each of the con-ventions for every representative in the legis-

Mr. Cohen said these conventions are held too often in Atlanta. He thought they ought to be changed around, and offered the suggestion that the next convention be held in Augusta, but Mr. Cabaniss moved to hold them in Atlanta, and the motion was carried.

A Campaign Committee.

A Campaign Committee.

A Campaign Committee.

Mr. Carter Tate moved that a subcommittee, consisting of five members, with the chairman as ex-officio chairman, be appointed, to form a campaign committee. The resolution went on to provide that this committee should prepare addresses and stump the state whenever possible for democracy.

Mr. Dessau moved to strike out the clause "prepare addresses," saying that these written articles signed up might get the members into serious trouble.

Mr. Hand also opposed it, saying ne campaign work would be necessary until the convention was over and the candidates and platform decided upon.

Colonel James M. Smith favored the appointment of the campaign committee. He said it could get together much more easily than the executive committee. "We must have some organization," he said, "for the candidate always succeeds best who has his forces organized, and so do parties."

But, on yote, the Tate resolution was tabled.

Primarles Suggested.

Primaries Suggested. A good deal of discussion came up over the following resolution introduced by Mr. Frank Rice and amended by Mr. Carter Tate so as

Resolved, That the manner of selecting delegates for both conventions in every county be left to the democratic party organization of the several counties, and that we further suggest that primaries be used in all counties when practicable.

markes be used in all countries when practicable.

Mr. Washington Desson favored adding an amendment requiring or suggesting that all primaries be held on the same day, but the amendment was lost.

Mr. Frank Rice ebjected to the amendment, "because," said he, "when a candidate is abused over here in this county at an election he ought to have a chance to go around and correct it before all the primaries are held."

Mr. Dessau offered as a suggestion that some restriction or requirement be made to prevent promiscous recognition of proxies.

Mr. Clark Howell moved that no proxy be Mr. Clark Howell moved that no proxy be recognized by the convention when given to a citizen residing outside of the county for which the proxy is given, requiring that all proxies must be presented by citizens of the same county in which the duly elected delegate resides.

This was unanimously adopted.

There'll Be No Xardstick.

The question was sprung upon the committee by some member as to how the standard of democracy should be measured in selecting delegates.

The question was: "Suppore a man should say he was a democrat, and then go off to a convention and vote for a third party or republican candidate. How are we to shun such publican candidate. How are we to shun such a delegate?"

"Shall we have a yardstick?"
The question was answered negatively, and it was decided to address the call for both conventions to the democratic party of Georgia.

Mr. Clark Howell moved that the chairman be empowered to draw up resolutions covering every action of the committee in session, and send them out with the call.

Chairman Atkinson has accordingly drafted the call printed above. the call printed above.

The committee adjourned until the 18th of May, subject to the call of the chairman in the meantime.

Gossip Among the Members. A great deal of talk was heard among the prominent democrats in the city about The Constitution's poll of the committee printed yesterday, showing fifteen for Hill and two for Cleveland.

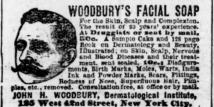

yesterday, showing fifteen for Hill and two for Cleveland.

The story had been an interesting one to everybody, for the democratic executive committee may be taken as a strong and fair representative body of the people of the state. The fact that they are for Hill is a safe evidence that Georgia is for Hill.

Replies were received yesterday from two more of the six members of the committee reported in yesterday's Constitution as not being heard from. Both were for Hill. They are Dr. J. T. DeJarnette, of Putnam county, and Hon. W. R. Mustin, of Morgan. Both express themselves as strongly of the opinion that Senator Hill is the available man.

To sum up, this gives seventeen for Hill, two for Cleveland and four unheard from. All of the four committeemen from the state at large are for Hill, and have so expressed themselves,

One of the pointers evoked from the meeting of the committee yesterday is that the platform adopted by the state convention is sure to have a plank for financial reform in it. Chairman Atkinson struck the keynote when he said "hand in hand must go financial reform and abolition of protective tariff policy."

The County School Commissioners to Be Elected Soon.

MEETING OF THE STATE BOARD TODAY.

Some Rewards Offered for Fugitive Criminals-Other Matters of Interest at the Statehouse of Georgia

In every county in Georgia preparations are now being made for the election of new county school commissioners.

The elections have been fixed for the 10th of this month by the state school commissioner

They will not be conducted simply as elections, but each candidate will have to stand an examination before he is classed as an available candidate.

available candidate.

The examinations are to be held in each county by the president of the county board of education. The questions for these examinations were sent out in sealed packages from the state school commissioner's office yesterday to the different counties, and along with the examination questions will go a list of instructions as to how the selection of the new county school commissioners is to be made. First, the candidates are to stand the examinations; then those who are classed satisfactory are placed on a list and given to the county board for action. The commissioners are elected from those candidates who satisfactorily passed the examination.

The boards are instructed to take into consideration the moral character and general availability of the candidates. A majority of votes in the board will elect the county school commissioner, and the bond is to be fixed by the county board.

It is one of the few appeal cases of this kind that the state board is called upon to handle. Two Rewards Offered.

Governor Northen offered two rewards yes-terday for fugitives from justice.

The governor offers a reward of $100 for the capture of John Booker and $50 reward for the arrest of Andrew Booker.

They have been running loose in Warren and Columbia counties for some time, and, it is said, have lately crossed Savannah river and gone into South Carolina. The Old Soldiers.

The Old Soldiers.

The work of paying off the old soldiers who were injured in the confederate service was kept up yesterday at a lively rate.

About one hundred and thirty called in person to get their pensions, and the executive department was crowded with one-legged, one-armed, blind, deaf, and broken-fingered confederate veterans all day.

A great many pensions were paid out through the mails, too, and it is a safe estimate to say that fully $15,000 went out of the treasury yesterday to these maimed old fellows who lost much of their life blood along the war trails of the Virginia and Blue Ridge mountain campaigns, battling for the lost cause.

All of the widows' pensions have been paid.

Returned Yesterday.

Governor Northen, State School Commissioner Bradwell, and Comptroller General Wright returned yesterday from their pleasant jaunt down to Camilla, where they went to speak before a great gathering of farmers of Mitchell county. They report a very enjoyable time of it in southern Georgia.

Mr. C. R. Warren, of Hawkinsville, yesterday invited the governor and State School Commissioner Bradwell to go down to a farmers' meeting in Hawkinsville very soon.

They will probably accept the invitation.

ATLANTA AGAINST AUGUSTA.

The Two Georgia Cities Will Engage in Cock-Fighting Contest in Charleston. A big cocking main is the next sporting event on the boards in the south.

It will take place in Charleston, S. C., on March 22d, 23d and 24th, Atlanta and Augusta being the principal contesting cities.

Each party will show twenty-one cocks, to fight for $100 each, and one odd fight for $1,800. The first three days will be devoted to the main fights, and two others, "hack fighting." Some of the finest cocks ever bred in the south fire being "walked" and trimmed for the contest, and several of the leading pitters and heelers from all parts of the country will be in attendance.

This will probably be the most extensive cock fight ever conducted in the south.

There the big, heavy railing which for years past has separated the audience from the legislators will be planted solidly. Then the deaks, chairs and waste paper baskets will be arranged in a systematic way—just as they are now in the present chambers. New carpets, however, will be provided for the interior of the horseshoe bend, while the floor occupied by the audience will be put in an excellent condition.

Mayor Hemphill and Mr. Woodward, of the committee which was authorized to make the contract, have finally drawn a paper which suits the Chamber of Commerce people, and today it will be signed by the city and the Chamber of Commerce people.

The floor to be utilized for a council chamber is not quite as large as the one now occupied by the city. Still it is large enough for every need of Atlanta as present.

Several contractors have been figuring on the work and today the mayor and Mr. Woodward will make the award and then the work will be commenced at once. The contractors, however, will be required to have the work will be commenced at once. The contractors, however, will be required to have the work completed by Monday.

The board of water commissioners convened in the superintendent's office yesterday.

J. W. Rapp was elected inspector to succeed his father, who died suddenly a few days ago.

The Western and Atlantic road presented a proposition to lease the short road the city is building from the main line to the river for a period of twenty-five years. The Western and Atlantic, however, agrees to lay the track, furnish the iron and ties and to deliver freight. Letters were read informing the body that two of the engines contracted for had been built and a committee, consisting of Superintendent Richards, City Engineer Clayton and W. W. Boyd, was appointed to go to Lockport, Pa., and inspect them.

When Will Work Begin?

The street committee has a big batch of papers from contractors who want to pave Peachtree, but so far nothing has been done.

The city engineer is ready to give his opinion as to the bids when they are opened, which will not take place until the council meets next Monday. So far there are quite a number of bids in Mr. Richards's hands, but as the council must decide upon the award, Mr. Richards has not opened any of them. Among the bidders are S. B. Mosely & Co., Atlanta; Warren Sharp Asphalt Company; M. E. Maher, of Atlanta; Bowman Brothers, McKeesport, Pa.; Southern Construction Company, for brick; A. R. Espridge, for brick; R. S. Laredo, Tex., March 2.—As the bugles were sounding reveille in the Mexican garrison in New Laredo yesterday, several Mexican soldiers made a bold break to cross the Rio Grande to this side. The guard opened a merciless fire upon them, as soon as they entered the river and compelled them to return only after several were wounded. The fusiliade created the impression for a while that Catarina Garza had broken loose again.

J. S. Bache & Co.'s Stock Letter. By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, March 2.—The market here opened steady and remained dull during the forenoon, the only excitement being in Eric, of which London bought a little. This stock was up on the report that arrangements had been perfected by which the coal combination gets control of the Delsware and Hudson, and also that an arrangement had been made with the Eric as regards their coal business. If this is true, it gives the coal combination control of 50 per cent of the total output. The great feature of today's market was New York and New England. The buying of it was steady throughout the day, and just at the close it was announced authoritatively that the road had passed into the hands of the Vanderbilts, and that one of Vanderbilt's sons-in-law would be made president and that Mr. Corbin would step out. This report no doubt has a good deal of foundation, and it at least disposes of the ownership of this property. The Vanderbilts can make very good use of this road, and by business-like management can make it carn a dividend. The general market was rather inactive, but there are so many rumors of different deals that we think the general market must be affected sooner or later. The short interest in some stocks is quite large, and the Gould-Cammack short interest in Rock Island and St. Paul is no doubt very heavy. If they should begin to cover it would advance prices very quickly, as there is really very little stock offered for sale. The general market closed firm, and we think prices will be better tomor-NEW YORK, March 2.- The market here opens Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

Rubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

NEW YORK, March 2.—A decline of 3-64d in futures in Liverpool and a loss of from Mol points in New York up to 1 o'clock today is the measure and description of the slight change that has developed in the cotton market since yesterday. The decline in Liverpool was about what was expected, and the change in prices in New York is so slight as to be insignificant. The barrs are not aggressive, and seem indisposed to sell short with all the contingencies of the planting and development of the new crop before them. The bulls, discouraged over past losses, are natthe planting and devolopment of the new crop before them. The bulls, discouraged over past losses, are naturally disposed to regard the heavy stocks as an incubus almost too great for any advance. The situation therefore remains dull and liners. Speculative precedent justifies the theory that such a period of activity is more than likely to be followed by a decline, but as the present position in cotton, both as regards the price and the supply is without a parallel, it hardly seems wise to assume that it will not prove an exception to the rule above referred to. No matter how great the depression or how heavy the stocks, it is evident the depression or how heavy the stacks, it is evident that at some price they will be carried by people who will realize upon them at a profit. Whether the preswill realize upon them at a profit. Whether the present holders shall prove to be the final ones is the question. Certainly their tenacity, as shown by the strength of the southern markets, entitles them to reward. Receipts for the day are 16,739 bales, against 13,000 bales last week and 12,109 bales last year. The half-weekly interior movement, as made up by the New Orleans cotton exchange, indicates receipts of 28,000 bales, shipments 38,000 bales, against receipts of 28,000 bales, shipments 41,000 bales, last year, receipts 28,000 bales, shipments 37,000 bales, During the afternoon the market continued dull and steady, closing 2025 points above the lowest and within about 2 afternoon the markes continued out and seaso, coeing 203 points above the lowest and within about 2 points of last evening's prices. There are no new features of importance. It is thought that a considerable quantity of cotten was absorbed by a prominent commission house at about the lowest price of the day

Lehman Bros.' Cotton Letter. By private wire to A. P. Youngblood. By private wire to A. P. Youngblood.

NEW YORK, March 2.—Our market today has again been very dull without absolutely any new features of importance, the extreme fluctuations extending over a range of only about 235 points, while the closing prices this evening show a net decline for the day of about 2 points from yeaterday's close. Hester's monthly statement of the erop movement to March lat shows cotton in eight to the close of February 458,000 bales over last year and 1,173,000 bales over the year before. The figures show that the cotton in sight on the lat o March is 7,37,351 bales. In connection with the probable course of values we can add nothing to our recent March is 7, 37, 730 bales. In connection with the prob-able course of values we can add nothing to our recent communications. The low price of the article seem to attract considerable outside buying. Our principa operators, however, seem inclined to take a very mod-erate interest for the time being, owing to the fact that with the commons crop movement there is little erate interest for the time being, owing to the fact that with the enormous crop movement there is little encouragement left on which to buy, while on the other hand the price in itself is entirely too low to

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Spoontative Movement in Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, March 2.—Wheat was fairly active today, but the market was somewhat unsettled, though prices ruled higher than yesterday with sharp fluctuations. On the whole, the position was looked on as rather builish, and, as New York was a good buyer, the market was firm, with an upward tendency. May, which opened & higher at 90%c, advanced gradually to 91c. An opportunity for working a seaje was availed of, and early buyers began to offer freely with the result that the market broke to 90%c. Their object accomplished, sellers began to buy again and assisted by heavy buying for New York account, decidedly better late cables and crop damage reports from France, the market became vory-strong, advancing to 91%c small closed steady at 91%.

Corn started stong on small receipts and firmness in wheat. Shorts were uneasy and covered freely, sending prices up some, as there was apparently very little for sale. Later, on the break in wheat, the feeling softened considerably; demand fiell off and offerings increased, prices declining somewhat, but firmed up again with wheat toward the close. May opened %c higher at 42%c, advanced to 42%c, declined to 42%c and closed steady at 44%e.

Oats were steady and closed without change.

Hog products were gonerally weak and lower. Hogs at yards were easier and stocks were larger than expected, and there was free selling. May pork experienced a decline of 15c compared with yesterday, but recovered all excepts to of it. Lard and ribs were steady and ribs were steady. Features of the Speculative Movement 1 ecovered all except 5c of it. Lard and ribs were iteady.

.... 5 8214 Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter By Private Wire to A. P. Youngblood. CHICAGO, March 2.—A little volume of trade and more activity was noted today in wheat. The volume, however, is yet quite small, and the trading of such a nature as would not indicate any tendency. The legitimate situation, however, is a little better. Clearances were larger, aggregating 125,000 bushels of wheat and wheat flour. Closing cables reported Liverpool 1@11/4d higher. This is a very hopeful feature, and should the relative difference in price continue we may look for very large export clearances when navigation opens. That is the one thing hoped for to sustain our prices and keep up activity in the market.

Nearly all the speculation in corn for the past struments has been for flay delivery, and the probabilities are there are a large number of open contracts. Should the weather become such as to cause light deliveries, the shorts may have a lively time during the

Should the weather become such as to cause light de-liveries, the shorts may have a lively time during the next thirty days. On the other hand, should the re-celpts be large it will induce large selling, and in all probability a very active mirrket. At present the for-eign and domestic demand is very large, and it would seem to require a large movement to keep up the sup-ply. We think there will come a time between now and the let of May when May corn will attract a great deal of attention. Receipts of hogs were over the estimate, and trading-was a little elack. The strength-which prevailed yea-terday seems to have all disappeared. The stocks of meas pork, old and new, are only about 30,600 barrels less than a year ago. The export shipment is not quite so large as if was a year ago. This latter feature we cannot understand.

JUDGE THOMAS NIXON VAN DYKE.

The Story of an Eventful Career Briefly Told-One of the Pioneers in the East Tennessee Road.

Judge Thomas Nixon Van Dyke died early yesterday morning at the home of his son, Mr. R. D. Van Dyke, at Rome. Judge Van Dyke was the father of Mr. Hugh T. Inman, and was very well known here in Atlanta and Judge Van Dyke had been ill some time and his death was not unexpected. Judge Van Dyke was born at Fort Washington on the Tennessee river about fifty miles above Chattanooga, on the 23d of January, 1803. His father, an officer in the United States army, came to Ten.

In his early young manhood Judge Van Dyke was sent back to Pennsylvania to be educated by his uncle, General Smith. He afterwards removed to Alabama, making the trip, as was necessary in those early days, by private conveyance. In Alabama le settled in Tuscaloosa and became at once identified among the leaders of the state. He was made clerk of the Alabama house of representatives. He went back to East Tennessee in the year 1830 and settled in Athens, Tenn., where he soon afterwards married the daughter of Dr. William Deadwick, a prominent physician of that place. His wife still survives him, they having lived together nearly sixty years.

Among the first public services he rendered was when he came to Georgia from East Tennessee to get a charter from Georgia to join the Western and Atlantic railroad at Dalton for the East Tennessee railroad. He was the first president of the East Tennessee, and with Major Campbell Wallace and Major Richard C. Jackson, was the first moving spirit in the In Alabama he settled in Tuscaloosa and the commissioners of the insane asylum of the state of Tennessee.

Judge Van|Dyke has always been a wealthy man. For the last four or five years of his life, he has been living with his son, Mr. Robert D. Van Dyke, a prominent merchant in Rome, Ga. He had three other very promising sons killed in the war, serving the confederacy. He has now surviving him three daughters, Mrs. Cleage, of Chattanooga; Mrs. Hugh T. Inman, of Atlanta, and Mrs. George M. Battey, of Rome, Ga., and a son, Mr. Robert D. Van Dyke, of Rome.

He had many warm and good friends in Atlanta, who will hear the news of his death with genuine sorrow and profound regret.

The funeral of Judge Van Dyke will take place at Atlens, Tenn., this morning.

asked for Dick Harris. No one responded.

A dezen lusty-lunged negroes shouted loudly for "Dick Harris."

No response.

"Dat niger done 'scaped fru de twilight, capin,' said one of the negroes who had used his lung power in summoning Dick Harris.

"Yas, sir," chimed in another, "Dick Harris done made a jail delibbery of hisself."

Then W. S. Harris was called for, but out of the fifty prisoners no one appeared.

Then Will Harris was ealled for as a last resort.

A big black burly negro stepped up to the bars.

The telegram was read to him. "Dat ain't me," be declared quickly, "dat ain't me at all, sir."

"Did you ever live in Birmingham?" asked Captain Mattox.

"Yas, sir, but I ain't de nigger."

"Did you ever live in Birmingham?" asked Captain Mattox.

"Yas, sir, but I ain't de nigger."

"Have you got a sister there?"

Yes, he had a sister there, but that wasn't her name. He didn't know anything about the sender of the telegram. It wasn't him that was wanted, he was sure it wasn't. The books showed that this Will Harris was charged with burglary. Julier Mattox wired the facts to Birmingham.

The questions are unanswered. Who is Dick Harris?

THE ODD FELLOWS IN SAVANNAH. The Semi-Centennial of the Order in Georgia.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—(Special.)—The celebration of the semi-centennial of Odd Fellowship in Georgia begins here tomorrow Fellowship in Georgia begins here tomorrow morning, Oglethorpe lodge at the same time celebrating its golden anniversary. Tomorrow morning the committee in charge of the orphaus' home neets to select a site. In the afternoon the grand lodge officers and other distinguished Odd Fellows will be entertained at a fish dinner at Thunderholt. At night a concert will be given for the Odd Fellows only. Afterwards the grand lodge of officers and others will be banqueted. Friday aftermoon the order parades, and Hon. John B. Goodwin, of Atlanta, delivers an address at night. Oglethorpe lodge has public exercises, including addresses by prominent Odd Fellows, and the presentation of pictures. The visiting brethren are to be given a glorious time.

Savannah, Ga., March 2.—[Special.]—Dr. P. J. KENNAN ON THE 15TH

The Great Traveler Comes to Lecture in Atlanta Soon.

THE PRESS OF THE STATE INVITED.

The Library Making Great Preparations for George Kennan's Visit on March 15th and 16th.

George Kennan, the Siberian traveler, will ecture in Atlanta for the Young Men's library on the 15th and 16th of March, and his visit is looked forward to with more than ordinary interest. Constant inquiries are being made at the library about the lectures, and nothing since Stanley has been so much talked about. Mr. Kennan is making the round of the continent and will come to Atlanta from the west, as Stanley did.

Since Kennan began to publish his articles on Russia in The Century Magazine, the readers of The Constitution have been keeping up with him and they know something of the hardship and danger he had to face in order to possess himself of the information upon which he made the great exposure of the Siberian exile system and the horrors of Russian prison

It is largely due to Kennan that the eyes of the world have been opened to the inhuman treatment of political prisoners by the Russian government. His lotters in The Century Magazine sent a thrill of horror through Christendom and prepared it to believe the stories of new barbarities inflicted on the Rus-stories of new barbarities inflicted on the Russian Jews.

These letters have been appearing in The Century Magazine several years, and recently they have been printed in book form with official evidence to sustain his statements. Mr. Kennan has challenged the Russian government to meet him at the international prison reform congress in Europe and disprove the statements made in his letters. Of course the government did not reply. Mr. Kennan says it could not, for he had the government's own official reports to sustain him. It is reported that the czar has ordered a copy of Mr. Kennan's book for his own use.

him. It is reported that the czar has ordered a copy of Mr. Kennan's book for his own use.

George Kennan was known by an Atlanta physician, Dr. Manahan, when he was a telegraph operator at a way station in Ohio. Like Edison, Kennan was too bright to hide his light under a bushel, and soon drifted to Washington, where he worked on the Associated Press. Afterwards he went to Russia as an attache of the American legation, and studied the language and customs of the country. He returned to the United States and delivered a series of lectures in the middle and northern states, but had not then been to Siberia. It was then that he was commissioned by The Century Magazine to go to Siberia and investigata the exile system and the Russian government had been misrepresented, and his publicly expressed opinion to that effect secured him letters from the Russian minister of the interior. His discoveries changed the whole character of his work and led to the great exposure in the Century letters.

The library is making great preparations for ters.

The library is making great preparations for the occasion. The press of the state will be invited, and the lectures will be advertised all over the state:

The Hebrew citizens of Atlanta are taking especial interest in Mr. Kennan's visit, because he is expected to tell them the condition of their oppressed brethren in the Muscovite applies.

empire.

Unlike most writers, Kennan is at home on the platform and one of the most popular lecturers in America. On his first tour he performed the remarkable feat of delivering his lectures to large audiences for 200 nights. His book and his lectures have made him a man of means as well as reputation and he is every-where received with distinguished honor.

Ovide Musin's Concert Tonight. This musical treat is for tonight, and a full house will welcome the distinguished Belgian artist and his charming prima donna, Miss Annie Louise Tanner. The impression left here by previous visits was a lasting one and it will bring to the theater all those who have once heard this excellent troupe. The Brook-lyn Standard-Union of last May 13th, said of once heard this excellent troupe. The Brooklyn Standard-Union of last May 13th, said of the concert:

"Ovide Musin, who, if not the superior, is at least the peer of any living violinist, with his fine company of artists, gave a most delightful concert at the Academy of Music last evening. As to Musin himself, it needs but a few of his opening phrases to convince the hearer that he is more than a virtuoso—he is a genius of the very highest order. Other players astonish by their mastery of the technique of the instrument; Musin makes one forget that there are any mechanical difficulties to overcome. The instrument in his hand is completely subdued to his will, the soul of music is shed about the hall, its spell falling upon every listener, and the traditions of Paganini—one is tempted to say of Orpheus himself—are vividly recalled."

This will probably be the last appearance for many years of Ovide Musin in America. Next May he embarks at San Francisco for Australia, China and Japan, and his tour in the other hemisphere will last a few years. Let lovers of music take advantage of this opportunity to welcome him in this farewell visit.

"The Burglar."

"The Burglar."

Iovers of comedy drama will welcome "The Burglar," which comes to the opera house for two nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Friday. The burglar, William Lewis, who is the central figure of the play, is such a peculiar sort of midnight marander that few genuine knights of the jimmy would recognize a pal beneath the rough coating of sentiment that covers Billy Lewis, and that character is gotten into the play in such heart-teeming situations that no one can blame him for shedding a few tears over the prattling of an innocent child, who assures him that "he needn't be afraid of her." The company is a strong one, being headed by Mr. A. S. Lipman, whose delineation of the title role has greatly augmented his reputation as an actor of rare ability. "The Burglar" furnishes an evening of pure dramatic amusement.

RAILROAD NEWS.

General Freight and Passenger Agent Dorsey.

OF THE GEORGIA ROAD, RESIGNS.

No Successor Yet Appointed-Important Meetings of Two Rate Committees Called,

General Freight and Passenger Agent E. R. Dorsey, of the Georgia road, has resigned. His resignation is to take effect as soon as his successor is appointed.

While this was not wholly unexpected to a few it was a great surprise to most railroad men. Mr. Dorsey has been thinking of this

He has been in the service of the Georgia He has been in the service of the Georgia road for fourteen years and has been a valuable and esteemed official. He has devoted the best years of his life to the company. Every one, without exception, spoke of him yesterday in the highest terms. Those who have been associated with him in business have the kindest feelings for him and regret his resignation. Mr. Dorsey is about fifty-five years of age. Before he went to the Georgia road he was with the Baltimore and Ohio, and prior to that he was with the old Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta.

Mr. C. E. Harman, general passenger agent

Columbia and Augusta.

Mr. C. E. Harman, general passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic, has been offered the place, but has not accepted it, and it is stated is not likely to do so. He has a good position, and is appreciated where he is. Prophets are at a loss to name Mr. Dorsey's successor. The Georgia's traffic is largely local in character. The road has less competition than any other in this part of the country.

As to Passenger Rates. The rate committee of the Southern Passenger Association will meet at St. Augustine, tomorrow, in the Ponce de Leon hotel. There tomorrow, in the Ponce de Leon hotel. There is a large amount of new business to be acted on. Summer tourist rates for the season of 1892 are to be fixed. The committee will also take up the application of the Southern Travelers' Association for the sale of one, two, and five-thousand-mile tickets at the rate of 2 cents per mile; one and two-thousand-mile tickets to be accepted for passage over all reads and as a committee of the contraction of t cents per mile; one and two-mousand mile tickets to be accepted for passage over all roads under a common ownership or control, and the five-thousand-mile ticket to be good over all roads without regard to ownership or control.

Other rates asked for are: To the army and militia national encampment at the world's Columbian exposition, Chicago; Grand Army of the Republic annual encampment, Washington; southern Baptist convention, Atlanta, May 6th-13th; Christian Endeavor Society, New York; Methodist Episcopal church general conference, Omaha; Southern Educational Association, Atlanta, July 5th-8th; Georgia Teachers' Association, Atlanta, July 4th-6th; National Educational Association, Saratoga; dedication of Odd Fellows' hall, Baltimere; national democratic convention, Chicago; national republican convention, Milineapolis; naval veterans of the United States, Baltimore; military encampment and prize drill contest, Monte Sano, Ala; land sale, Harriman, Tenn.; Georgia republican state convention, Atlanta; baseball clubs, Southern League; Georgia grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, Savannah.

Many raliroad men are not disposed to go far in the matter of issuing mileage books, holding that owners of a thousand-mile book ride from two to five thousand miles, owing to the difficulty in keeping check on the mileage used. Other rates asked for are: To the army and Made Permanent Receiver.

Made Permanent Receiver.

Another move was made in the Atlanta and Florida receivership case yesterday.

Judge Speer passed an order yesterday morning at Macon appointing Mr. R. H. Plant permanent receiver of the road, Mr. Plant, as is known, having heretofore been appointed only temporary receiver. Judge Speer stated to the reporters that the appointment was only a move in the natural order of the case and could not be considered as foretelling the issues that may follow. Exceptions were filed to the judge's rule absolute. In the event Judge Clark sustains Captain Garrett, the case may keep in the courts until it reaches the United States supreme court.

To Meet in Atlanta. A meeting of the rate committee of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association will be held in Atlanta March 8th. This meeting was originally called for Nashville, but Colonel Stahlman changed the place. The call states that as there is a great quantity of business to be acted on members had better arrange to remain for ten

The Scrap Heap. —Commissioner E. B. Stahlman, of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, is expected to return from the north about Saturday. —General Manager Green, Traffic Manager Haas, Assistant Traffic Manager Culp and General Passenger Agent Taylor, of the Richmond and Danvillo, were all out of the city yesterday. Captain Taylor is expected back today.

Sayannah will try to get an assurance of low rates before getting up a gala week this spring. Last year the one-fare rate for the round trip was refused by the roads, and they stated at the time that no more one-cent-a-mile rates would be given, but it was done afterwards.

COLONEL DORSEY'S RESIGNATION.

It Is Rumored It Has Been Tendered the Officials.

Augusta, Ga., March 1.-(Special.)-The resignation of Colonel E. R. Dorsey, general freight and passenger agent of the Georgia road, was rumored today, and when asked about the would not af-firm or deny, but said all would be known in a few days. Railroad men, say nothing, but the re-port is generally believed. Colonel Dorsey has been with the Georgia road ten or twelve years, and is one of the finest and best known railroad men in the country.

THE VETERANS COMING.

Tonight and Friday Atlanta Will Entertain New York's Veteran Firemen.

New York's Veteran Firemen.

The Veteran Firemen's Association, of New York, that has been in attendance on the mardi gras exercises at New Orleans, will spend tonight and Friday in Atlanta.

They will arrive tonight at 6 o'clock from New Orleans, and will be met by a delegation from the Atlanta fire department and the old volunteer company "No.1." They have an old hand engine and some other pieces of fire-fighting machinery which will be unloaded and housed in No.4 engine house.

which will be unloaded and noticed in Active gine house.

Friday they will be the guests of Chief Joyner and his men, and Atlanta's veterans, old No. 1, and will be shown all the points of interest in and around the city.

SURRY OF EAGLES NEST

By John Esten Cooke.*

This celebrated book has been out of print up to three years ago, and what few copies could be obtained sold readily for $10 and $15 per copy and even more, &0 great was the anxiety of the public to possess a copy of this great novel. It was then republished as a subscription book and sold at $2 per copy until an immense edition was exhausted.

The publishers then determined to print a paper edition, knowing that there could be several hundred thousand copies more sold at this popular price that in the $2 edition. It has been placed at the remarkably low price of 50 cents, or will be sont for 55 cents postpaid to any address. For sale by John M. Miller, opera house block, Marietta street, Atlanta, Ga.

A SAD, SAD STORY.

A Wife Adjudged Insane-The Husband' Deep Grief. Another sad case of lunacy was before the ordinary yesterday.

The case was that of Mrs. W. C. Postell, who has resided at 56 Elliott street for some months.

The husband, W. C. Postell, is an honest and industrious workingman, and it was pitiful to watch his distress as he sat and watched his un-fortunate wife.

He told a story tinged with sadness. Her mind has been affected for nearly four years, but she has never been violent. He has watched over and bas done all he could for her, hoping her condition was only temporary, and that she would get all right.

The passage of time has but aggravated the case but he could not bear to think of sending her away to be treated as a common lunatic—the woman who had been the sweetheart of his youth.

For months he watched over her, dreading to take her before the ordinary, but as she did not improve he finally deeided to take that step.

Yesterday she was carried before that official and was adjudged insane. She was carried to the jall and given a place in the female quarter. She was very quiet all the afternoon.

During the atternoon Mr. Postell called at the jall. He merely rapped on the grated doors to ask how she was getting on.

The tears trickied down his honest face as he stood leaning against the bars.

"It's to bad," he said. "No; I won't go up and see her; it would make her worse. Treat her just as kindly as you can, sir, if you please."

He went away whing the tears from his eyes.

A few hours later he sent down a nice soft bed and a number of delicacies that might please her or add to her comfort during her stay in the jail. Owing to the crowded condition of the asylum it may be necessary to keep her in the jail for some time.

The case seems to be a hopeless one, woman who had been the sweetheart of his youth.

THE FESTIVE SKATERS.

A Skating Rink Started in the 1890 Club Hall The old-time skating rink has returned to Atlanta. One is now domiciled in the 1890 club

The proprietors announce that they have come to stay, and state that their rink is not going to be like some rinks Atlanta used to have, when skating rinks and Sunday schools were not exactly synonymous. The opening night was March 1st, and the hall was filled with the festive skaters. Some of the old veterans who used to do the "slide act" along in the early eighties, when skating rinks were as numerous as weinerwurst men, were on deck, and smiled softly as they buckled on the tricky skates. They had about forgotten the swing, but a few slides across the floor restored their old-time proficiency, and they moved with ease and grace.

But the amateur got no end of bumps and bruises. He collided with everything in sight, and went home with bruised shins. not going to be like some rinks Atlanta

It has been related that the duke of Argyle It has been related that the duke of Argyle, in sympathy with the tramps that wended their way along the byway that passed his estates, had placed along the readside posts, on which they might scratch their backs, and in grateful acknewledgment of the kindness they used to say, "God bless the duke or Argyle." But had they knewn of Tetterine, the only absolute specific for Tetter and all skin diseases, the public would never have known of this as a byword. 50c. box, by mail by Nearly one hundred styles of new Suitings and Trouserings are ready in the Merchant Tailoring Department. Not simply patches on cards-big, full pieces. The nat-tiest weaves of Europe and America are among them. Skillful fitters and cutters are behind them. The most careful man, the most particular man, can have the nobbiest sort of a Spring Suit on short notice---and a satisfactory Suit, too.

The fabrics that are now ready to be shown are all new. You cannot find an old familiar in all the lot. No, not one. That is an element of progress in our Tailoring business. No grass nor weeds growing there. Newness, freshness, novelty, alertness. "Face to the front" and "Forward, double quick" are the orders.

The materials are exclusive almost entirely. Three-fourths of all we show are to be found only here. The charm of elegant economy suffuses the stock for this Spring.

$9.90 That imaginary line with Winter and Spring on either side is a No-Man's Land anyhow. We are as warranted in advertising Winter Overcoats and Suits as if winter were still in its depths. Who knows but there's several weeks' wear yet for you this winter in one of these Suits or Overcoats at $9.90, reduced from $12.50, $15, $17.50 and $18.
